

ABSTRACT

Self shapable complex membranous optical device made up of a concave membranous mirror 45 and of an independent concave actuating membrane 46 including integrated circuits, electrodes and conductors, says membranous mirror and said actuating membrane being folded for their transport initially by flatness and then by rolling up, and being manufactured by materials deposit on a revolving liquid.